Greetings!

Welcome to the 23rd issue of Casket Works. Can you believe it? 23 issues...my how time flies. It just seems like yesterday when we were putting together our very first Casket Works - also known as "The Ink Bomb". We call it that because the printer super-saturated the issue in ink, and since it was printed on newsprint, well it just sort of soaked up all of the ink. If you ever see a Casket Works 1 and handle it, be sure to wear gloves or it'll look like you've been washing your hands with soot.

Well, those days are long gone. Now, I only have to worry about getting cat hair on my shirt when I pick up Mama-san, our shop cat. That is, if you can catch her. She's very wild and feral, and most people only catch a passing glimpse of her as she stalks the warehouse, looking for prey. We've actually lost two people in the packaging department - prey to the insatiable hunger of Mama-san. By the way, in Swahili the name Mama-san means "cross-eyed monster who deals death and destruction whilst hacking up hairballs". Look it up.

Okay, now stop reading this drivel and check out your shiny new Casket Works. We'll see you at Gen Con!

News and Information about Reaper!

Check out some Previews of upcoming Warlord products, and some peeks at what we've been working on for Rage Chronicles 2007 in the Warlord section of the Catalog!

Legendary Encounters is Here!

The stars have aligned! The time is right! No, we're not talking about summoning C'thulhu, we're talking about the arrival of the first wave of Legendary Encounters pre-painted plastic miniatures! The first wave includes such dungeon staples as skeletons, orcs, an ogre, a minotaur, and a troll! And unlike other pre-painted minis, all Legendary Encounters miniatures are sold in non-blind, non-random packaging.

What does that mean for you?

That means you can get what you want, when you want it. Just remember, encounters should be random, not your miniatures!

Top Ten things Reaper's Minions and Other Employees did on Their Summer Vacations!

10. Ravaged
9. Practiced Animating corpses and running from the law
8. Pillaged
7. Safeguarded their homes from the upcoming zombie infestation.
6. Plundered
5. Civil-War re-enactments. With live ammo.
4. Burned
3. Painted Minis, Played WoW, Painted more Minis, repeat.
2. Ravaged Again. (Hey, anything worth doing is worth doing twice!)
1. Watched Transformers! (twice!!)

CAV Second Edition is Here!

Revamped and ready to bring destruction to your table, the all new CAV 2.0 rules are now available! Utilizing Reaper's RAGE game system CAV 2.0 is easy to learn but with a tactical and strategic depth that will challenge players of all skill levels.

What's up Next for Legendary Encounters?

Now that our first wave of Legendary Encounters minis has hit the docks, many people are wondering, "Hey, what's next?" Well, the answer is - lots! There are several items currently being prepared for their release this fall, including a succubus, gnolls, goblins, kobolds, a ghost...oh, we could go on and on, but that would ruin the surprise! Keep your eyes on the Reaper homepage for more details coming soon!

Longtime Industry Pioneer Passes Away

We are sad to announce that Blackhawk Distribution's long time employee and our friend and former colleague, Dan Matheson, passed away June 24th from a heart attack at home. Dan was Blackhawk's longest serving employee, who worked many years for Cliff Wilson, before taking on the day to day operations of Blackhawk after Cliff's untimely passing in 1997. Dan was adept not only in operating the business, and conducting sales, but also literally helped build Blackhawk from the ground up after a fire destroyed the warehouse in 1988. Dan retired from Blackhawk in late 2005, but still continued to help in many ways after his retirement. We shall remember him forever, and miss him always.

Rage Chronicles 2007 is Here!

Be sure to download the latest free Warlord rules update - The Rage Chronicles 2007! You'll find updated datacards, spells, equipment, and SAs, including tons of all new models for the Darkspawn, Dwarves, Elves, & Reptus; exciting new spells & equipment; and powerful new SAs! Get yours now at www.reapergames.com

Sharp-eyed readers may notice that some of our models have had their prices adjusted with this issue. While unfortunate, we have tried to hold the line against a price adjustment for many years. However, due to the incredible demand on tin production and the volatile tin market, we have had raise the price on some items. We do feel very strongly that while this may be disappointing, Reaper Miniatures are still the absolute best value in the miniatures industry today, and we thank you for your continued support.

A QUICK GUIDE TO CONVERTING YOUR MODEL

Or: What to do when the "perfect" figure is not quite perfect!

by Lanse Tryon

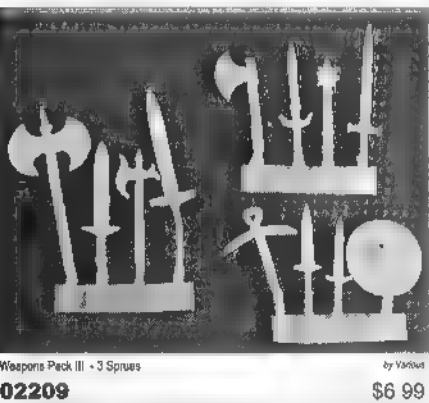

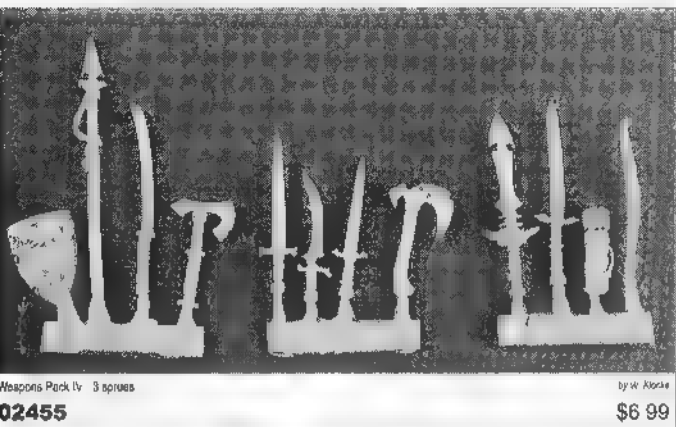

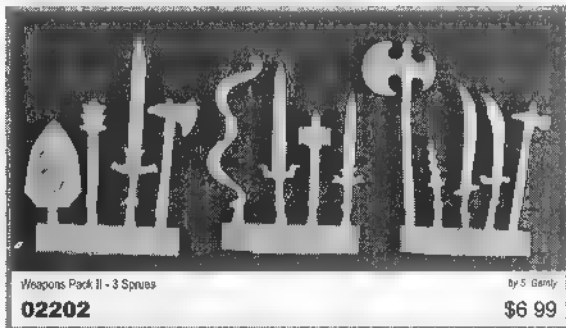

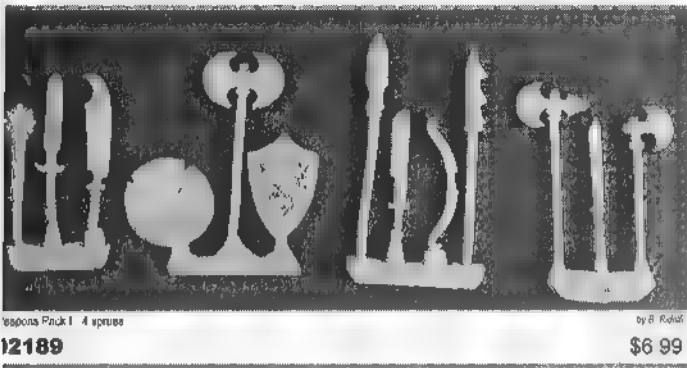

It's happened to you once or twice. You've finally found that perfect figure, except for one tiny thing. Maybe your character uses a different weapon. Maybe you wanted to have wings. Maybe there should be a hat or a different helmet. Maybe you have special gear, or an instrument you want represented because they are important to you. Until now, you've probably just used the figure you have and explained to everyone that your character really has . . . well, whatever it needs.

Well, now you can fix that. We're going to teach you how to make minor adjustments to your figure so it can be everything you need! This tutorial will assume you are changing out a weapon, but the process is the same for adding wings, a hat, a third arm, whatever. Sometimes you can skip a step or two (there's often nothing to remove first before adding wings, for example) but this guide covers the basics of what you'll need to know and do!

The First Cuts

Using the nail clippers, snip the weapon above and below the figure's fist. Try to get as flush as possible, but be careful to not mar the fingers. I find that the nail clippers cut straight, flat, and flush on the outer surface, and they leave a triangular wedge on the inner cutting surface. If you were clipping your nails, the part left on your finger would be nice and flat, and the clipping would have the wedge, at least if you had pewter fingernails.

Once you've clipped above and below the fist, clip off where the weapon attaches to the base of the figure. You may need clean this with a knife or a file, depending on how clean your cut was.

Each of the weapon packs shown here is a great place to start! Pick one up and personalize your figure!

Drilling out the fist

You'll notice that the hand is still holding a plug of the old weapon. Select a drill bit that's a little smaller diameter than the plug, and carefully drill through the plug, from top to bottom. When you're done, it should look like the figure is holding a toilet-paper tube in his fist.

Opening the hand

Stick the tip of the hobby knife down into the top of the fist. Position the knife so that the sharp edge is cutting out between the model's thumb and index finger. GENTLY rock the knife back and forward, applying gentle pressure until you cut the model's hand open. The metal is soft and thin enough at this point that it shouldn't be hard to cut at all.

Cleaning around the fingers

Take your hobby knife and clippers, and cut away at the fist until all of the plug is removed. Be very careful, since this sort of knife is very sharp. If you want, you can use needle-files instead. Then carefully pry the fist open. Use a toothpick, a fingernail, or something else that won't scratch or mar the metal. This is to allow you to fit the weapon into the model's hand. Now insert the weapon so the handle is being grasped.

Closing the hand

Carefully and gently close the fist around the weapon. Make sure the weapon is oriented correctly, and place a little drop of glue in the fist, where it'll work its way all through the grip.

You now have a mini that looks like it was sculpted with the new weapon!

Here's a quick preview of one of the Spells that only Crusader Armies can use - Angelic Aspect.

I have no use for adventures - they're nasty, disturbing, uncomfortable things and make you late for dinner

Soldier Models Meat for the Grinder

Here's a quick preview of some of the new models you can expect to see in the Darkspawn over the next few months! The ranks will be given flesh with new Daemonic lords and servants, and a whole new subfaction will be introduced - The Bloodstone Gnomes!

Designs by Wayne Reynolds

So, What is a Bloodstone Gnome?

They live in a region near Arkturile known as the Bloodstone Caverns of Kurandurak, or simply the Bloodstone Caverns. Speaking in very broad terms, the bloodstone has been "tainted" or "corrupted" by something. Other living things can not remain in the presence of the bloodstone without degenerating and being quickly consumed by the magical effects of the bloodstone. But the gnomes have learned how to master the Stone!

... Check out reapergames.com the next few months for more!
